

Tourists should ever explore the island of Samosir in North Sumatra. Exploring Samosir Island, you will find the most famous natural hot springs. The famous tourist attraction is Aek Rangat which is located in the Pangururan area. The water in the Aek Rangat tourist attraction comes from Mount Pusuk Buhit. Water flows from the top of Mount Pusuk Buhit, like wisdom that also flows from the peaks of beautiful characters. Living life naturally, like flowing water, will help us to get through the smallest gaps because life goes on with hopes and dreams.

The location of Aek Rangat Hot Spring is in Rianiate Village and has become an attractive natural tourist spot for residents and visitors. The water is relaxing, and the hot springs are also surrounded by unspoiled nature. The natural flow of the water is like a dream in a visitor's fantasy. Cool and clear, it gently warms the body of the person who bathes in it, clears the mind, and even soothes the soul. The residents of Pangururan city in Samosir Regency call it Aek Rangat or "Warm Water Bath." The city's residents have built several ponds to get natural water from Mount Pusuk Buhit. The water temperature in the baths is warm because it comes from hot springs combined with fresh water. The state of the water will not be too hot for many Visitors. The pool size at the Aek Rangat attraction is medium, so it can accommodate visitors who are healthy and happy. Near the pool is an area for visitors to bathe, so they can clean themselves before and after entering the pool. The atmosphere of this tourist attraction is very natural because it is surrounded by many trees and other natural characteristics characteristic of Lake Toba's view.
