

This Aek Rangat tourist attraction is an important destination for people in the city of Pangururan because it provides social benefits and a source of income for the community. This tourist destination creates jobs and improves infrastructure and public facilities. This bathing place impacts linkage and involvement between the local community and the wider community, including the level of autonomy or dependence. The existence of this place has an impact on the social situation of the community and the importance of interpersonal relationships.

Aek Rangat tourist attraction in the city of Pangururan, is a place to relax. Soaking together in this warm pool becomes a meeting room and social interaction for visitors. Soaking together in this Aek Rangat pool is a place of socialization because togetherness in a place is beautiful when lived and when memories are remembered. From the social aspect, soaking in the Aek Rangat pool is a purification and healing property because human nature is like water; it takes the shape of a receptacle.

And is also helpful for relieving the symptoms of ankylosing spondylitis, and psoriasis

Guys... the water in this bath is useful for relieving the symptoms of rheumatoid arthritis and osteoarthritis.

